

Dear visitor,

I am Petrus Hoff, author of the book 'CO₂, a Gift from Heaven'. In this book I present a solution to the present CO₂ pollution problem, a problem that potentially changes our climate. This solution offers the possibility to make money with it. The book explains in a very clear way that the present Kyoto Protocol perhaps helps to make the problem smaller, but it is not enough to help solve the problem.

I publish this website in order to create interest to read my book, and to ask you for help and support. Your support can consist of time or knowledge. Please note that this website is a supplement, and not a replacement, of my book; so if you want to understand the concept of the solution you may consider to buy the book or get it from your local library . In 2003 I have sold my lily breeding, producing and exporting company and started to dedicate myself to this objective:

Solve the CO₂ pollution problem
while making money